Briefly describe in narrative form important information to assist potential applicants in assessing their likely fit with your program. This description must be consistent with the program's policies on intern selection and practicum and academic preparation requirements:

Natalis Psychology Training Program's (NPTP) Doctoral Internship Program provides a training environment in which a range of clinical, didactic, and advocacy experiences are offered. These experiences represent the necessary depth and breadth required for future professional psychology practice in both urban and suburban settings, serving clients from diverse and often underserved communities. NPTP offers doctoral interns the opportunity to work across a variety of program specialties and focus their training experience on developing competencies in areas of interest (e.g., pediatrics, school-based care, integrated care, psychological testing, sexual health, or chronic mental illness).

NPTP bases its selection process on the entire application package submitted through the AAPI; however, applicants who have met the following qualifications prior to beginning internship are considered preferred:

1. A minimum of 1,000 hours of supervised experience (350 of which must be face-to-face intervention hours and 25 of which must be direct assessment hours)
2. All qualifying exams must have been successfully completed
3. Dissertation proposals must be approved before the start of doctoral psychology internship
4. Current enrollment and good standing in a clinical, counseling, or school psychology doctoral program
